Welcome to Church today!

"All is safely gathered in, except mine, and that should have been". If a farmer doesn't plant he won't harvest. Some wise advice from Solomon about preparing for the future, Ecclesiastes 11.

Evening: Pastor James is our speaker this evening.....

“Last week, we saw Jesus’ teaching about the kingdom. He describes it as already here in part, but with much more still to come. It means that we, the citizens of this kingdom, hope for what is to come, while navigating the brokenness and fallenness inside us and around us.

This week, from Luke 18, we'll see Jesus develop this thinking by laying out the way citizens of this kingdom should think and live. Jesus gives us 3 characteristics of kingdom citizens that make them distinct."

'Sharing the Love of Jesus'

What a God we worship!

He has always known us; He is our Maker.

He has always loved us; He is our Saviour.

In our darkest hours He is our light;

In our fiercest fight He is our shield.

When we need direction, He is our guide;

When our joy runs dry, He is our song.

At the point of despair, He is our hope;

At the moment of danger, He is our refuge.

He is just and true, loving and merciful;

He is Rock and Shepherd, King and Father.

What a God we serve!
